

Ontario Employers have legal responsibility to protect workers from domestic violence in the workplace. Occupational Health and Safety Act

Training Opportunity for LCCEWA Member Organizations June 6th & 7th, 2018

Are you confident everyone in your organization is prepared to respond safely and effectively?

- 33% of workers experience domestic violence
- 53% of them experience it at work

Make sure your workers are protected.

Apply a Whole Company Approach: Three main learning objectives

1. RECOGNIZE the impact on victims, potential victims, co-workers and the workplace environment.
2. RESPOND effectively and REPORT appropriately using differential options consistent with various levels of workplace responsibility.
3. REFER victims, potential victims, offenders and co-workers to a network of external resources when domestic violence has been identified or is suspected.

Place: Community Room, Faculty of Education, 1137 Western Road, London, ON, N6G 1G7

Time: 9 am - 4:30 pm

Cost: $50 Online Registration: <https://conferences2.adt.its.uwo.ca/Default.aspx?conferenceID=288>

Registration & Questions: Avril Flanigan - avril_flanigan@sympatico.ca

Barb Potter – bpotter7@uwo.ca 519-661-2111 ext. 87486

London Coordinating Committee to End Woman Abuse

Western Education

Centre for Research & Education
on Violence Against Women & Children